

A New Song For Nina by Fiona Joseph is a Finalist in the LLL Awards 2016

19 April 2016

A New Song For Nina by Fiona Joseph is a finalist in the Language Learner Literature Awards 2016 (Adolescents and Adults: Intermediate category).

The awards, held annually by the Extensive Reading Foundation (ERF), were announced at the International Association for Teachers of English as a Foreign Language (IATEFL) 2016 conference on 15 April.

A New Song For Nina, published by National Geographic Cengage Learning, was praised by judges for being “a truly original story” in which the writing is “so good you really feel you know the characters”.

It is not the first time that author Fiona Joseph has been recognised by the ERF’s awards. In 2014 her Graded Reader Oscar’s Journey was shortlisted in the Adolescent and Adult: Advanced category.

An international jury will choose the winning book in each category, taking into account Internet votes and the comments of English Language students and teachers around the world.

ENDS

